I. SUMMARY AND BACKGROUND

A. PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

The purpose of H.J. Res. 39 is to provide for Congressional disapproval of the rule submitted by the Department of Commerce relating to “Procedures Covering Suspension of Liquidation, Duties and Estimated Duties in Accord With Presidential Proclamation 10414”.

B. BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

In 2012, the Department of Commerce issued final determinations that imports of solar cells and modules from the People’s Republic of China (PRC) were unfairly priced and subsidized, and the International Trade Commission issued final determinations that these imports materially injured the U.S. domestic industry. Pursuant to these determinations, the United States imposed anti-dumping (AD) duties ranging from 18 to 25 percent on solar cells and modules imported from certain individually-investigated Chinese firms and 250 percent on all other solar cells and modules imported from the PRC.<sup>1</sup> Additionally, the United States imposed countervailing (CVD) duties of 14 to 15 percent on all solar cells and modules imported from China.<sup>2</sup>

On April 1, 2022, in response to a petition from Auxin Solar Inc., the Department of Commerce initiated a circumvention inquiry into whether imports of solar cells and modules, completed in Cambodia, Malaysia, Thailand, or Vietnam using parts and components from the PRC, are circumventing existing AD and CVD orders on solar cells and modules from the PRC.<sup>3</sup>

On June 6, 2022, President Biden issued Proclamation 10414, which “declare[d] an emergency to exist with respect to the threats to the availability of sufficient electricity generation capacity to meet expected consumer demand,” citing 19 U.S.C. § 1318(a) as authority for this emergency declaration. That statute empowers the President to proclaim an emergency “by reason of a state of war, or otherwise,” and on the basis of that emergency to allow “the importation free of duty of food, clothing, and medical, surgical, and other supplies for use in emergency relief work.” On the basis of this authority, Proclamation 10414 directed the Secretary of Commerce to “consider taking appropriate action” to permit importation free of any new tariffs imposed under U.S. AD or CVD law of solar cells and modules from Cambodia, Malaysia, Thailand, and Vietnam for a period of 24 months. On September 16, 2022, the Department of Commerce issued a Final Rule to implement Proclamation 10414.<sup>4</sup>

On December 2, 2022, the Department of Commerce issued Preliminary Affirmative Determinations of Circumvention with respect to Cambodia, Malaysia, Thailand, and Vietnam.<sup>5</sup>

Under the normal operation of U.S. AD and CVD law, upon issuing a Preliminary Affirmative Determination of Circumvention, the Department of Commerce would instruct U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) to suspend liquidation of entries of products covered by such a determination and require collection of cash deposits sufficient to cover estimated duties that reflect the preliminary finding of circumvention. However, due to Proclamation 10414, as implemented by the Department of Commerce's Final Rule, the Department of Commerce did not instruct CBP to do so and has made clear that it does not intend to take any action to collect duties or estimated duties that reflect the finding of circumvention for solar cells and modules from these four countries that enter the United States prior to June 6, 2024.

H.J. Res. 39 would disapprove of the Department of Commerce's Final Rule implementing President Biden's Proclamation 10414 and allow U.S. AD and CVD law to function as designed, including to address circumvention of AD and CVD orders by exporters from the PRC. Pursuant to the Congressional Review Act, enacting H.J. Res. 39 into law would prevent this Final Rule from having effect and would prevent the Department of Commerce from issuing a rule that is substantially the same as this Final Rule.

VII. DISSENTING VIEWS

COMMITTEE ON WAYS AND MEANS,
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, DC, April 21, 2023.

House Democrats are committed to fighting against climate change while supercharging our domestic manufacturing. We made sure that the clean energy transition will mean more jobs, more manufacturing, and higher wages here in the United States. The Inflation Reduction Act is the single largest clean energy investment in U.S. history. The IRA is putting the country on a path to responsible, sustainable energy independence. In addition, the green tax credits in the IRA have spurred over 100,000 jobs for U.S. electricians, mechanics, construction workers, technicians, support staff, and others. In the law's first six months, 90 new clean energy projects have been announced in 31 states. These projects include battery manufacturing, electric vehicle manufacturing, and wind and solar manufacturing sites.

Last August, President Biden signed into law the bipartisan CHIPS and Science Act of 2022, which will make historic investments in U.S. workers, communities, and businesses. Among other things, the CHIPS Act will boost American semiconductor research, development, and production. The CHIPS Act prohibits funding recipients from expanding semiconductor manufacturing in China and countries defined by law as posing a national security threat to the United States. Along with the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law and the CHIPS Act, these landmark laws have led to companies committing more than $200 billion to U.S. manufacturing. Environmental priorities must not be separated from our commitment to stand up for human rights.

House Democrats led the bipartisan, bicameral effort to pass into law the Uyghur Forced Labor Prevention Act, which is now in full force, showing the People's Republic of China (PRC) that products made through forced labor have no place in the United States. Concerns with forced labor in the solar industry have been well-documented, and these products should not enter the U.S. market. In June 2021, U.S. Customs and Border Protection banned imports of silica-based products made by Hoshine Silicon Industry Company as well as goods made using those products, including solar cells. The U.S. Department of Labor added Chinese polysilicon to a list of goods believed to be produced by child labor or forced labor. Ways and Means Democrats will continue to oversee implementation of our laws prohibiting this deplorable and unconscionable practice.

In addition to enforcing laws regarding the prohibition of forced labor, House Democrats are committed to ensuring that the U.S. has the trade tools to combat unfair trade practices. House Democrats fought hard to establish new enforcement structures in the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement that have raised our standards as a nation and serve as a powerful beacon of what's possible. We must continue to give weight to our word by fighting for aggressive enforcement of our trade rules. In this regard, in December 2022 the U.S. Commerce Department found that certain companies are attempting to bypass U.S. antidumping and countervailing duty orders on solar cells and panels from China by doing minor processing in Cambodia, Malaysia, Thailand, or Vietnam before shipping to the United States.<sup>1</sup>

For over a hundred years now, Congress has maintained trade remedies laws to address unfair trade practices.<sup>2</sup> Trade remedies underpin our open economy and are a critical tool to address unfair trade practices by the People's Republic of China. The findings by the U.S. Commerce Department cannot be ignored.

Sincerely,

RICHARD E. NEAL,
Ranking Member.
